fair sample of the conduct of the election eleculars.

At McGhoe's Switch, in this county, republicans polled about 6:0 vots, and the democratis fifty. While the rotes were being counted, the candle was turned over and put out and the room left in darkness for several minutes; when the colored republican inspector put out his hand to preserve the bailed box he found that it was gone. Considerable confains shuged, and on the candle being relighted it was observed that the box had been filled up with new tickets and that the o'd bailed were all over the floor. The colored man protested against the fraud, and was driven from the room with curres, and was not permitted again to enter and witnes the cumt.
